Own Your Story

Vulnerability is your Greatest Act
of Courage

What if today was your last day on Earth? How would you spend it? What would you do? Who would you call? Where would you go? Would you need to forgive? What would you leave behind? Did you pour out all that God placed inside of you? What will be your story?

Life is filled with trials and tests; we face our adversities differently. But as you write your story, what habits, patterns, and areas of life do you need to focus on and heal in order to create a story of love, compassion, and care? After losing her sister at the age of 37 from depression and anxiety, Dru Evans knew it was in her power to make a change. Every gift, every talent, every resource she was guided to use to bless the lives of others... the world!

Dru Evans will disrupt the norms and awaken the hearts and minds of people to see that we are here for far more than ourselves. We are here to encourage, motivate, and inspire one another.

Dru Evans is light where there is darkness and reminds each of us that no matter what life brings our way, we can overcome it. Dru Evans, unapologetic, knows that we are not here by accident.

From the maintenance crew to the executives in the boardroom, all need to hear this motivating and riveting message to not only create a story but to Own Your Story. No one can tell it better than you.

Take a ways

- Imagine you are the light where there is darkness, and no matter what life brings your way, you can overcome it. Your story matters, and you are not here by accident.
- Forgiveness empowers you to become stronger.
- Change the habits that are getting in your way and replace them with those that will bring you a story of love, compassion, care, and positive impact.
- Learn how to visualize, meditate, sit with God, and sharpen your narrative until you see your inner strength.
- Learn to manifest your greatest story. Every story has characters; the best stories are only as great as the characters in them.
